Boys Held For Marshall Grand Jury

BENTON — Marshall County Judge Artelle Haltom today ordered two teen-aged boys charged with the murder of a 71-year-old forestry camp supervisor held for the Marshall County grand jury.

Haltom relinquished Juvenile Court jurisdiction over Arvin Johnson, 17, Owensboro, and Edge Hall Jr., 14, Frankfort, which means they must stand trial for murder.

Johnson, who has admitted fatally stabbing Horace A. Kennedy, supervisor of the state Boys Conservation Training Center at nearby Gilbertsville, was returned without bond to Marshall County Jail.

Bond for Hall, also charged in connection with slaying Kennedy as he slept, was set at $5,000.

Denver Callaway, 14, also of Owensboro, still is being held in jail here on charges of being an accessory to the fact. Police said he admitted knowledge of the murder, although he did not have a part in it.

State Welfare Commissioner Charles Alphin was scheduled to arrive here late today to confer with county school officials on getting the remaining 30 dependent boys at the camp back in school.

Arnold Jones Named TVA Director

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — A Kansas Republican today became the ninth director in the 24-year history of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Arnold A. Jones was sworn in during a brief ceremony witnessed by Gen. Herbert D. Vogel, chairman of the TVA Board, Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), and other officials.

President Eisenhower gave Jones a recess appointment after the Kansas nomination for a full term bogged down in the Senate Public Works Committee. Jones replaces Dr. Harry Curtis, a Democrat, whose nine-year term expired in May.

Vaccine For Common Cold Is Discovered

BALTIMORE, Md. — A Johns Hopkins scientist reported today that he had developed the first successful vaccine against a virus causing common colds. The virus caused 30 per cent of the common colds that came to the attention of the developer, Dr. Winston H. Price, in investigations made over a two year period, he said. Price, director of the division of medical ecology at the Johns Hopkins school of hygiene and public health, reported that in controlled tests the vaccine prevented colds caused by the JH (named after Johns Hopkins) virus in 80 per cent of the cases.

The new vaccine developed by Price is made from the killed JH virus and was reported to have produced no symptoms, discomforts or other effects in the persons who received it in the tests.

Tests of the vaccine were conducted with boys in training schools which cooperated in the studies during an epidemic which occurred normally.

Explode A - Blast In Desert Shaft

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. — An underground atomic device exploded with a muffled but shuddering miniature earthquake force deep inside a desert tunnel today. Scientists measured its violence to help unlock the earth's secrets.

Nuclear shot "Rainier," comparatively puny as A-bomb firings go and yet the most powerful ever detonated by U.S. technicians inside the planet's crust — rumbled off at 10 a.m. p.m. (1 p.m. e.d.t.) from a shaft dug 2,000 feet into the desolate mesa on the northern end of Yucca Flat.

At the chamber's end, around four sharp right turns and under 800 feet of rock, the intricate shot erupted within the eight by eight foot confines of a cavity designed to absorb its force and prevent its acting as a huge rifle pointed at the wasteland.

There was little visible upheaval from the cavern, which collapsed inside the escarpment to be sealed possibly for 100 years from human entrance because of "trapped" radioactivity. An Atomic Energy Commission spokesman estimated it would be a century "before you could enter the tunnel."

The mesa appeared to rise slightly in the sunlight and then settled back while loosened rock tumbled from the sides and stirred by the sudden jolt swirling around scrub cedar and juniper trees.

Deadly Cyanide Pellets Scattered Along Railroad As Train Crashes Into Truck

Thoro'breds Work On Defense In Game With Florence Lions

Murray State College's Thoroughbreds, now in their third week of practice, have begun working on defenses for their coming game with the Florence (Ala.) State Lions, Sept. 28.

Described by Murray Coach Jim Cullivan as a perennially tough, hard-knocking team with few frills, the Florence team is the only Thoroughbred opponent that uses the Alabama box offense.

The coaches began searching for defenses last Thursday and expect to devote considerable time to the project in each session until the game. The Thoroughbred offense will be much the same as last year.

Although Florence lost its opening game last week to Middle Tennessee 26-0, Cullivan said he still expects the Lions to be one of Murray's strongest opponents. "Florence, he said, 'always begins slow. I expect them to play Tennessee Tech right down the line Saturday night and then be a seasoned ball club the next week when they play us.'"

Coch "Hal" Sell of Florence pretty well agrees with this contention. He says that despite the opening loss he believes the Lions are potentially the best he has had there.

The Lions were one of the three teams that defeated the Thoroughbreds last year by one point, 19-18. Cullivan reports that his team is especially eager to avenge these one-point losses. Also, the series between the two teams now stands at two victories each, and Murray will be trying to level the score.

The Thoroughbred squad is now down to 64 men, a more workable group. The coaches are spending much of their time in polishing a squad of 35, most of whom will see some action in the first game. Today is the last day of two practice sessions.

1200 Residents Live In Fear As Poison Raked Into Boxes

THAMESVILLE, Ont. — A passenger train ripped apart a tractor-trailer loaded with 15 tons of deadly cyanide pellets just before midnight and left this town's 1200 residents in fear of their lives.

This morning still faced with dangers of children picking up poisonous pellets, of a poisoned water supply and poisonous gas fumes, Police Chief Robert Letts said the state of emergency might last for three days.

The speeding Canadian National Railways train hit the 25-ton truck-trailer rig of Truck Transport Co., Dearborn, Mich., at the east edge of the business district.

The crash tore the trailer loose from the tractor, ripped the trailer into two parts, carried the larger part a quarter-mile as golfball size cyanide pellets spewed out, and tore up electric lines and poles.

By daylight, 150 men were working in the 400 yards along the railroad tracks. They swept the pellets into piles, shoveled them into cardboard canisters, loaded the cartons onto trucks and took them for burial in bulldozers gouged ditches. Some workers probed through bushes and weeds with gloves in a pellet-by-pellet search.

School children, most accompanied by their mothers, were kept away from the scene until police cordon lest a child pick up a pellet.

Smallest Dose Fatal
Even the smallest dose of cyanide is fatal if swallowed internally. Nazi leader Hermann Goering chafed the gallows following his conviction as a war criminal by swallowing a cyanide pellet only minutes before his scheduled execution after World War II.

Police said there was danger of fumes blanketing the area if the cyanide was not cleared away. Authorities feared it would be in the morning would worsen the situation.

Medical experts agreed there was greater danger and a professional chemist employed by Dow Chemical Co. rushed to the scene from his home in Sarnia, Ont.

J. C. Sluder, driver of the tractor trailer, crawled from the wrecked vehicle, complaining of burns in his eyes. Doctors said he was undergoing examination at a hospital in nearby Chatham, Ont. to determine if he was poisoned.

The locomotive carried wreckage of the vehicle a mile down the tracks when the engine air-brakes failed. Pieces of the vehicle and a film of cyanide dust were the train which slowly proceeded to Chatham, about 17 miles from Thamesville.

Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (U.P.) — Whether you like him or not — and there seems to be no middle ground — you have to admire Ted Williams today for his game attempt to get back into the Boston Red Sox lineup.

The Red Sox, as far as the pennant race is concerned, have nowhere to go. And it is entirely possible that Williams could sit out the season and, without further effort, win the American League batting championship.

Yet, no matter where you stand in the Williams popularity poll, you have to rise up and cheer for the Williams way.

Some detractors will argue that a man getting a salary estimated at better than $100,000 a year should play on one leg, if necessary. Or, in this case, one lung, because Williams is suffering from a severe respiratory infection.

Remains Very Sick
But I have got to feel that any man who goes to work when he is ill as Williams is carrying his determination beyond the call of duty. The saggy has nothing to do with it because if he wasn't worth it to the Red Sox, they wouldn't pay it.

And Ted has been, and still is, very sick. He has a racking cough which bubbles ominous in his chest. And every severe tear at the 10-inch silver pin which was placed in his collarbone when he broke his shoulder in a 1954 training camp fall.

But Ted is a man of vast pride.

And he would feel like a "cheese champion" if he sat out the season and, in effect, told Mickey Mantle to "try and catch me." Williams proved this fact of his character when he hit .406 in 1941 — last man to reach that mark.

Determined To Play

In the final week of the season he had skidded alarmingly, going to the plate 19 times and getting only two hits in a series at Washington. He was down to .401 and wasn't meeting the ball. Joe Cronin, then his manager, suggested that he stay out of the lineup to protect his average.

Ted was indignant. "That's not for me," he retorted. "I'll stay in there and take my turn if I finish at .390. If I'm going to be a champion, I want to win like one."

So he stayed in active as the Red Sox moved to Philadelphia to wind up the season against the Athletics. And his luck remained bad in the Saturday opener of a closing three-game set. Ted got one hit in four times at bat and his average dropped to .399.

"I'm not worried," he grated. "There's still two games tomorrow."

Flashes Old Form

In the first game of the final day's double-header, he poked out three times up for a winning garrison finish of six hits in eight times at bat and his .406 average.

Milwaukee, From The Bat Boy Up To The Owner, Feels That The Worst Is Over For Year

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

From Milwaukee owner Lou Perini right down to the Milwaukee bat boy there was a feeling today that the worst was over and the rest of the National League took the Braves' four-game lead to mean that the pennant race was over.

The Braves could almost feel the flag in their fingers after they beat the Giants, 8-2, Wednesday night for their third straight victory while the Dodgers defeated the faltering second-place Cardinals, 6-1.

The overjoyed Perini had his eyes and ears on both games from a New York hotel room where he watched the Brooklyn-St. Louis contest on TV, while listening to the Milwaukee-New York tussle on the radio at the same time.

"I feel 100 per cent better now," he said happily, after both games were over. "It looks as if we're over our hitting slump and the World Series doesn't seem so far away now."

Burdette Wins 16th
Obviously back in the groove at the plate, the Braves pounded southpaw Johnny Antonelli and four Giant relievers for 11 hits, including three by Johnny Logan and a homer by Andy Lee Burdette, meanwhile, scored his 16th victory with a four-hitter, one of which was Willie Mays' 35th homer in the sixth inning.

The victory reduced Milwaukee's "magic number" to six with nine games left to play. Cincinnati edged Pittsburgh, 2-1, and the Cubs topped the Phillies, 6-4, in the other National League games.

The Yankees reduced their "magic number" to four and retained their 6½-game lead in the American League with a 4-3 victory over the Tigers. The White Sox stayed alive with a 5-3 win over the Kansas City Licked Boston, 2-1, and Cleveland whipped Washington, 8-3.

Cards Err Thrice

Young Don Drysdale was credited with his high victory for the Dodgers although Ed Roebuck bailed him out in the ninth. Charlie Neal rapped Lindy McDaniel for a two run homer in the third inning and the Dodgers added their final four runs with the aid of three Cardinal errors.

Smoky Burgess' pinch single in the ninth broke up a fine pitching duel between Brooks Lawrence of the Redlegs and Bob Smith of the Pirates. Lawrence, who drove in Cincinnati's first run, hurled a seven-hitter for his 16th victory. The only run he allowed was an eighth-inning homer by Bob Skinner. Smith yielded seven hits, also.

Home runs by Ernie Banks and Walt Moryn of the Cubs helped rookie Dick Drott record his 15th victory of the campaign. Banks drove in three runs with a double and his 42nd homer to send Robin Roberts of the Phils down to his 21st defeat.

Yogi Berra was pretty muggy the whole show in the Yankees' victory over the Tigers. He drove in all of New York's runs with his 21st and 22nd homers of the year off Duke Maas. Sal Maglie was the winner although Bob Turley turned in a brilliant two-inning relief job by striking out three of the six Detroit batters he faced.

Rookie Hits First Homer

Larry Ron Jackson, recalled by the White Sox from Indianapolis, smashed a three-run homer that climaxed a five-run fifth inning and powered Chicago to its triumph over Baltimore. Jim Wilson posted his 15th victory with late-inning relief help from Gerry Staley. Rookie Lenine Green hit his first major league homer for the Orioles.

Tom Gorman of Kansas City gave up a first-inning homer to Jim Piersall and then shut the door in Boston's face to earn his fifth win of the year. The Athletics got to Frank Sullivan for both their runs in the fourth inning on singles by Vic Power, Gus Zernial and Bob Cerv plus Bob Marlyn's sacrifice fly.

Rookie shortstop Billy Harrell doubled with the bases full in the fifth inning to spark a five-run rally that gave Mike Garcia of the Indians his 12th victory of the season at the expense of the Senators.

Garcia trailed 3-1 until the fifth when the Indians batted around and routed Russ Kemmerer. Harrell collected 3 of Cleveland's 14 hits while Jim Lemon had 4 of Washington's 10 hits.

Geologists To Lose Good Spot

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Geologists will lose one of their favorite digging areas in this part of the country shortly with construction of another link in the New York State Thruway.

Plans being drawn for an expressway call for its extension through the 70-acre Williamsville Quarry on the outskirts of Buffalo. For years the quarry has been an attraction for "rock hounds" because of its large store of fossils.

The largest trilobite ever discovered in the country was picked up in the quarry. But the insect-like animal almost was overlooked by its finder.

Irving G. Reimann, former geologist at the Buffalo Museum of Science, took a piece of Onondaga limestone rock with traces of fossil segments in it back to the museum one day nearly 20 years ago. But it was not until 1937, when he was then a geologist at the Buffalo Museum of Science, that he decided to break up the rock. When he split the limestone he discovered the large trilobite. Most such fossils are less than two inches in length.

Khrushchev Prestige Is Dimming

By CHARES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Nikita S. Khrushchev's prestige as the No. 1 man in Soviet Russia's collective leadership seems to be dimming.

His recent victory over Georgi M. Malenkov, Vlaslav M. Molotov and Lazar M. Kaganovich in the ruling Presidium of the Russian Communist Party has failed to strengthen his personal position.

On the contrary, it has seemed to make it more apparent that he is not a "strong man" of the Josef Stalin type.

Khrushchev won out—narrowly—in the Presidium dispute only with the aid of Marshal Georgi Zhukov, defense minister and army leader.

Zhukov and Vice Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan increased their own strength as members of the collective leadership.

There are indications now that the friendship between Khrushchev and Zhukov may be cooling.

Harvest Poses Problem
Khrushchev must be worried, also over the serious lag in the Russian harvest.

Pravda, the Communist Party Newspaper, and other organs are complaining of the delay in the grain harvest in Siberia, the central Asian republic of Kazakhstan, and Byelorussia.

Insufficient machinery and inefficiency are being blamed for the situation.

But Khrushchev may be lucky if he can absolve himself from a big share of the blame. He has assumed personal responsibility for the overall agricultural program.

There is no suggestion that Khrushchev's job as first secretary of the Russian Communist Party is in danger.

Khrushchev Top Man?
But it is possible that Zhukov is really the strong man in the Presidium at present, and that Khrushchev is dependent on his support.

There are reports in European capitals that the next big move in Moscow may be another government reshuffle. It is suggested that Nikolai A. Bulganin may be replaced as premier by Mikoyan. In that event Bulganin would be kicked upstairs, officially, by replacing Marshal Kliment Y. Voroshilov as the figurehead president of Russia. Voroshilov is 76, and has long been ready to retire.

If Bulganin were replaced, it would be because he sided for a while with Malenkov, Molotov and Kaganovich in their attempt to oust Khrushchev from the Communist Party leadership.

But the replacement would be simply a tidying-up job in the Presidium. It would not necessarily mean that Khrushchev is stronger.

What Happens To Gifts And Ring

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. — What happens to the shower gifts and the engagement ring when the wedding is called off?

Well, in this case, Thomas Kucharsky decided to keep the $750 worth of shower presents. Margaret Bodnar decided to keep the $200 engagement ring he gave her.

That was back in June of last year when Kucharsky cancelled the wedding. Miss Bodnar demanded his ring back.

The case went to court. District Judge George Morrison consulted three etiquette experts, then gave his decision Thursday.

The judge said he thought the gifts should be returned to the donors, but ordered Kucharsky and Miss Bodnar — both of South River — to share them because neither would "bend the rules promulgated by these social arbiters."

As for the ring, the judge said Miss Bodnar should keep it because Kucharsky called off the wedding.

The artist does his painting, mostly in the South Pacific, in connection with the exploratory work of the American Museum of Natural History of New York City.

Here's how to do it. Sprinkle VAPAM on your seed beds now. In the next 30 days it kills all those weeds and grasses, germinating weed seeds, soil fungi and those invisible nematodes. Come seedling time you have the healthiest soil in the state! You get more seedlings per square yard — up to twice as many. And only a few — if any! — weeds. Your seedlings are really strong and vigorous. You can transplant fast for the best crop you've ever seen.

Result is hundreds of dollars saved in back-breaking work and weeding costs. Yet VAPAM costs only a penny per square foot. Make more profit next year! Don't share your crop with weeds and soil borne diseases. Put VAPAM on your seed beds now. No special equipment needed. It's so easy and safe to sprinkle on. You get stronger seedlings, weed control and more profit. Do it now for best results. Approved by the Department of Agriculture for all food and fibre crops.

Elvis Gives Real Ring To Gal

By VERNON SCOTT

United Press Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD — Elvis Presley, who's been on a merry-go-round of girl friends, finally caught the golden ring and planted it on the finger of a southern belle currently in his favor.

Trouble is, it was slipped on the third finger, right hand. It's only a friendship ring.

But friendship is better than nothing at all, according to Anita Wood, latest love-light in Elvis' sleepy eyes.

"Ah was thrilled to death," Anita thrilled in the rich accent of her native Jackson, Tenn. "We've only known one another since July 7 — and here he is giving me a ring."

Sealed With Kiss The sparkler is strictly first class — a diamond set in gold and surrounded by 18 sapphires.

"I was too excited to remember what Elvis said when he gave it to me. But he did say it with a kiss," she confided. "It was mighty romantic."

"Here's how it happened. Elvis was packing in his hotel room to go back to Memphis Monday night. I was in the sitting room with some other kids when he called me in. "That's when he put it on my finger."

Anita, a 19-year old honey blonde with sparkling blue eyes, is hostess for a Memphis TV show, "Top Ten Dance Party." She's in Hollywood preparing for her first movie role in "Girl In The Woods."

She owns a pair of dimples, too.

"On our first date Elvis drove me around in his car while we got acquainted. We stopped and had hamburgers. Then he took me on a tour of his new house. He showed me all around the grounds and the swimming pool.

"I'm returning to Memphis this week before I come back out here to work in the movie. Elvis called me Friday night and we'll be dating when I get back there."

The well-rounded (35-22-35) beauty says she and the hip-hop star have a "very good" marriage. But her parents and three brothers have met the teen-age idol and approve of him.

By HEINZ ZIMMERMANN

United Press Staff Correspondent
MUNICH, Sept. 18.—Kirk Douglas, George Macready, Adolphe Menjou, Ralph Meeker, Wayne Morris five newcomers from Hollywood and some 2,000 extras spent eight weeks here making a "different" war movie, "Paths of Glory."

The story of "Paths of Glory" is the story of the French 16th Division of World War I during a crucial battle centering around mythical "Ant Hill" in 1915. Douglas commands the regiment which has been on the lines for weeks. The men are tired and due to be pulled out for a rest. A surprise visit by the corps commander, played by Menjou, changes the plans. He orders division commander George Macready to lead an all-out assault on "Ant Hill."

Wayne Morris, a battalion commander has just returned from a patrol in which he accidentally killed one of his men and deserted the other during a moment of cowardice.

The attack on "Ant Hill" is about to begin despite the protests of Douglas, who has learned that it is expected the assault will result in 68 per cent casualties.

Old Castle Used

Morris and his men panic under heavy enemy fire and fail to take part in the assault. Macready orders the French artillery to fire on them in the trenches, but the artillerymen refuse to kill their comrades and Macready is forced to retreat with the rest of the division.

The rest of the story deals with a dramatic court martial. During the course of filming in and around Munich, the film company used Schleissheim Castle, the 250-year-old building housing the Bavarian state art collection. The castle was used for a week as the French field headquarters and "the site of the court martial."

Many residents of the area petitioned the government to allow the film company to use the castle on Saturday so they would have a chance to watch the action at work.

Daily "cock beer breaks" were called during which time the actors, crew and onlookers consumed mugs of beer.

Douglas' wife, Anne and their son, Peter, joined him on the set toward the last few weeks

Matrimony Still Top Objective

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 18.—While technological and scientific advancements have completely changed society in less than a generation, the college co-ed of today is still a "matrimonial aspirant."

Dean Jeannette Schudder, dean of women of the University of Buffalo, said recently that the persistent matrimonial aspirations of the co-ed in the face of a changing world deserved a salute.

Dean Schudder said statistics indicated that the "persistent" co-ed of today will realize her ambition of marriage by the time she graduates. Then she can expect to "live happily there after until the age of 72"—the result of longer life expectancy. She also noted that by the time the co-ed is 32, she will have three children, all of them of school age, and will then be ready to "make further contributions to society."

The primary purpose of a liberal education for women therefore, Dean Schudder added, "is to provide training for later employment."

Our hope is to graduate a well-integrated and reasonably happy individual who will be able to make her contributions to society to the best of her abilities," she concluded.

FLAGSHIP MEMORIAL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Navy Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. has turned over Adm. George Dewey's flagship Olympia to the cruiser Olympia Assn., Inc., of Philadelphia for maintenance as a memorial. The cruiser, berthed at Philadelphia since 1921, was Dewey's flagship in the battle of Manila Bay in 1898 when he gave the famous order, "you may fire when ready, Gridley."

PLYMOUTH, Mich., Sept. 18.—A barber shop near here is called "Duke's Clip Joint."

of the film. Douglas has now gone to Norway to begin filming "The Vikings," also for his own company.
